Provides New Cigar-Tobacco, Realty Taxes

Harrisburg (AP)—Senate Republicans presented a $138,685,000 tax package last night as a substitute for the rejected income tax.

Two levies—one on cigars and smoking tobacco and another on real estate transfers—are included in the compromise plan.

Approval of the program by the Senate Republican caucus broke a long deadlock in the upper chamber that has prolonged the Legislature into its lengthiest session since 1779. The session started on January 2.

The Republican House majority of 120 representatives considered the tax program for more than an hour at a closed caucus without taking any action on it.

Reports from the caucus were that the House GOP leadership will demand an air-tight assurance from Senate Republican leaders on ultimate Senate passage before the lower chamber would give its preliminary approval.

The tax package, including the rate of levy and the estimated yield for the remainder of the Commonwealth's two-year fiscal period ending May 31, 1953:

Smoking tobacco, one cent an ounce; cigars, one cent on each cigar priced 15 cents or less; two cents, on each between 16 cents and 50 cents; five cents, on each 51 cents or more; two cents, for each package of "little" cigars, $7,916,000.

Real estate transfers, one per cent of the amount of money spent to buy or sell a property—$25,334,000.

Corporate net income tax, increasing the rate from five per cent to six per cent—$47,000,000.

Cigarettes, increasing the tax from four cents a pack to five cents, $17,615,000.

Beer, doubling the cent a pint tax to two cents—$1,820,000 and allowing for the first time a five per cent rebate to brewers for collecting the tax, estimated to cost $4,600,000.

Gross receipts on public utilities, increasing the rate from 14 mills to 20 mills—$9,000,000.

The Senate GOP caucus also accepted a recommendation to cut back Gov. John S. Fine's proposed $20,000,000 allocation for civil defense to $8,000,000.

The Civil Defense recommendation, together with the tax package, was drafted by a six-man committee appointed by the Senate GOP caucus a week ago.

The committee had also considered a proposal to revive the cent-a-bottle soft drink tax but that levy was dropped on the theory that its passage through the House would be virtually impossible.

The Governor also opposed the soft drink levy on the grounds that a pledge against its re-enactment was a part of the 1950 Republican election platform. The tax expired last May 31.

Sen. T. Newell Wood (R-Luzerne), chairman of the special Senate Tax committee, and Sen. Fred P. Hare Jr., GOP whip, consulted with House leaders on possible concurrence with the program by the lower chamber.

Caucus approval of the tax is necessary if the program can be expected to pass on the floor of both House and Senate. It is especially important in the House since that branch must originate all tax-raising bills.

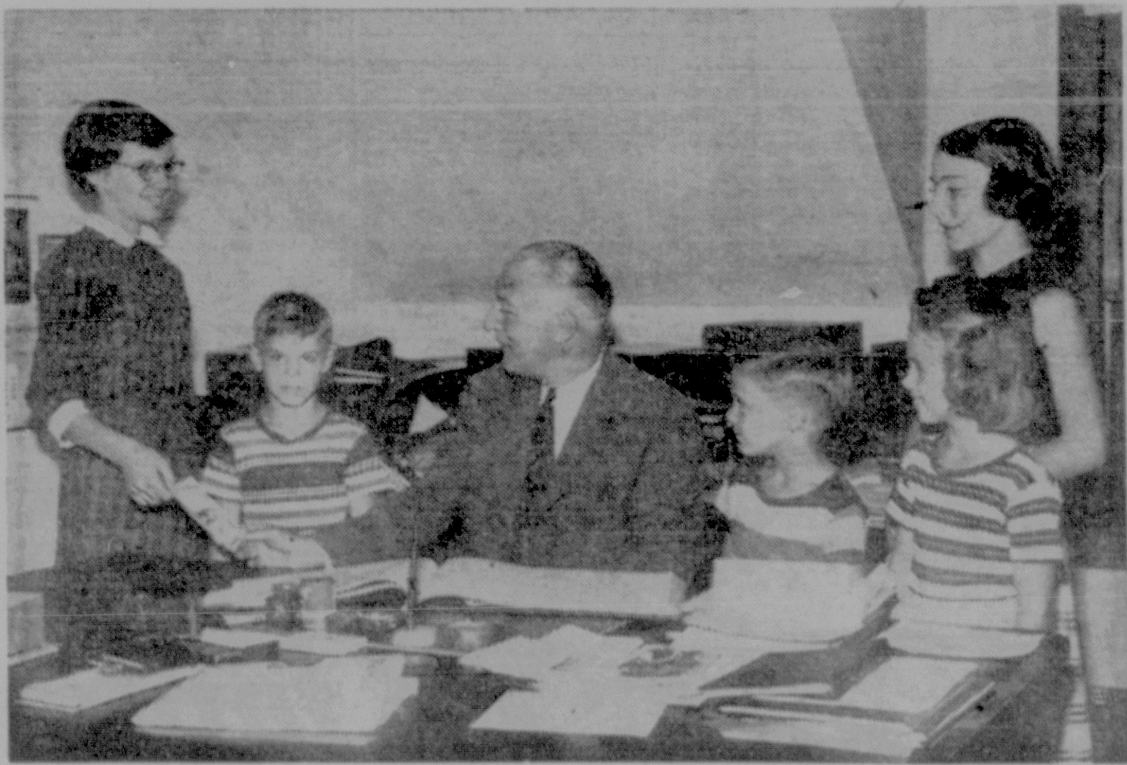

The compromise tax plan, it was explained, was made sufficiently elastic to cover pending legislation, requiring finances, outside the Governor's budget. They include proposals for increases in teachers' salaries and boosting the pay of State employees.

The tax battle started in March when Fine presented his income tax bill as "the least painful" levy needed to balance the State's $1,220,000,000 budget.

The bill first was defeated but then was passed on a second roll call by a margin of four votes. The bill immediately ran into heavy opposition in the Senate.

Reds Refuse To Accede To U. N. Buffer Zone Demand

Munsan, Korea, Tuesday (AP)—Allied delegates resumed Korean truce talks today under a Communist threat they must change their attitude on a buffer zone or accept a prolonged deadlock.

Criticism Of Franco Spain Is Rejected

Washington (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations committee approved a no-strings $400,000,000 military and economic aid program for Franco Spain yesterday and rejected a subcommittee's criticism of the Spanish dictatorship.

The subcommittee, which visited Spain and other European countries in June, had recommended the aid program on the condition the Spanish government "promote the freedoms cherished by the Spanish peoples."

But the full committee, before approving the subcommittee report, cut out the conditions and also struck out criticisms of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's government.

Reds To Attend Treaty Talks

Washington, (AP)—Russia, after denouncing the proposed Japanese peace treaty, has given notice it will attend a 50-nation Japanese peace conference called in San Francisco September 4 to sign it.

Moscow's decision foreshadowed a Soviet propaganda attempt to block the American-sponsored peace pact.

Barring an unexpected policy switch, Russia's delegation is expected to refuse to sign—but only after objecting to virtually every paragraph of the treaty draft.

The State department in announcing Russia's acceptance yesterday refused to speculate on whether it means an end to elaborately-laid plans for a brief five-day session, climaxed by a grand signing ceremony September 8. It seemed inevitable, however, that Russian arguments would drag the conference beyond the closing deadline.

Spellman Offers West Point Cadets Haven In Any Of Three Catholic Men's Colleges

New York (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman yesterday offered 90 accused West Point cadets a haven in any of three Catholic men's colleges.

"To err is human, to forgive is divine," the cardinal said in a statement.

He referred to the pending ouster of the 90 cadets, accused of academic cheating in the greatest scandal in West Point's 150 years.

The three colleges that are open to the cadets are Fordham University, Manhattan College and Iona College. Of the three, only Fordham has any rank in collegiate football. Cardinal Spellman made no mention of athletics. But many of the accused cadets were members of Army's great grid team.

The talks, now bogged down for 13 straight sessions on the issue of where to draw a demilitarized zone across Korea, resumed at 11 a.m. (9 p.m., EDT, Monday).

The Reds yesterday flatly turned down an Allied invitation to propose any adjustments in the United Nations demand for a buffer zone based on the present battle line. Most of this lies north of Parallel 38.

Instead, the Reds insisted that the U.N. truce team discuss the Communist demand for a demarcation line along Parallel 38. This is the old boundary between North and South Korea.

Pyeongyang radio, 18 hours after yesterday's session, broadcast a statement by the Chief Red delegate, North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, that the Allied delegation must change its attitude on the buffer zone issue or the conference will "not make any progress."

The question of where to draw a buffer zone has deadlocked the talks since July 27. A total of 28 hours and 18 minutes has been consumed on the one subject, including one session where the negotiators sat for two hours and 11 minutes without saying anything.

Despite the failure to progress, the feeling persisted at U. N. advance headquarters that the Communists may still back down from their insistence on a buffer zone along the 38th parallel.

There was no indication that the U. N. delegation, headed by Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, would revise its stand for a defensible line along present battle positions. However, it was believed the Allies might consider a compromise if the Communists would meet them half way.

Short-tempered little General Nam gave no hint Monday that the Reds would revise their stand. Frequently he used such words as "arrogant, absurd, and self-congratulatory" to describe the U. N. stand.

In effect he rejected in advance a conciliatory offer from Joy.

Chevallier's Widow Held For Murder

Orleans, France, (AP)—Pretty Yvonne Chevallier was formally charged with murder yesterday in the strange politics-conquers-love shooting of her young Cabinet minister husband, Pierre.

Theoretically, dark-haired Mme. Chevallier, who is reported to be in her late 30s, faces the possibility of being guillotined. Actually French courts are apt to show great leniency in such a case.

Leniency is expected if the investigation shows that her chief object of jealousy was not another woman but her husband's promising political career which was taking most of his time.

Chevallier, 42, mayor of Orleans and hero of the resistance, was shot and killed by his wife Sunday a day after he had won his first Cabinet post in the government of Premier Rene Pleven.

His wife told police he returned to their apartment after an absence of a week in Paris, that they quarreled over his many long trips to Paris on politics, that he threatened divorce and she drew a pistol from a drawer and fired five times. He died instantly.

Uranium-Hunting Reds Captured

Hof, Germany, (AP)—Three Russians and 10 East Germans who crossed the zonal border into West Germany searching for uranium deposits were captured yesterday by West German police.

Three others escaped and fled back across the border.

The captives told the police they had crossed the poorly marked border by mistake while seeking uranium ore on the Russian zone side.

Spellman Offers West Point Cadets Haven In Any Of Three Catholic Men's Colleges

Fordham with about 10,000 students and Manhattan with 2,500 are in New York city. Iona is a small college in New Rochelle, N.Y., with about 1,300 students.

At West Point, an Army spokesman said of the Catholic cardinal's offer to the cadets:

"We are glad such an opportunity is available to them."

The Army said some of the involved cadets will leave the campus for home today. Each will have a final chance to talk things over with the academy superintendent, Maj. Gen. Frederick A. Irving.

Meanwhile, a new appeal was sent to the White House yesterday, asking that the 90 cadets be restored to duty and declaring they had broken only a "minor moral law"—at most.

Retired Col. Harrison Travis, leader of group of parents in defense of the cadets, telegraphed the appeal to Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughn, the President's military aide, and asked him to intercede with Mr. Truman.

Meanwhile, Col. James B. Leer, the academy's public information officer, said that more than three-fourths of the 90 cases have been screened. The findings are being forwarded to the Department of the Army.

Selective Service said yesterday cadets dropped from the Military Academy at West Point must register for the draft within 30 days, if not already registered.

Louis Cohen Surrenders To Probers

Washington (AP)—Senate crime probers got their hands on one star witness yesterday in Washington and hunted another in the Boston area.

Louis Cohen, of Cresco, Pa., showed up here to accept service of a subpoena and place himself at the disposal of the Crime Committee for the rest of the week. Cohen has been long sought for questioning about gambling in Pennsylvania. Police witnesses have named him as boss of a $20,000,000 lottery syndicate.

Still missing was Abner (Longie) Zwillman, described by the committee as a retired big-time bootlegger. Federal agents combed the Boston area for him after hearing that he left a friend's yacht last Friday night and landed at Marblehead, Mass. The committee wants to ask him some more questions about the New Jersey underworld.

Flanked by a pair of lawyers, Cohen appeared unexpectedly at the office of Senator O'Connor (D-Md.), committee chairman. Cohen declined an invitation to make a sworn statement and his attorneys said that for the time being they would do all the talking.

The portly, gray-haired witness was left to his own devices after his lawyers promised James N. Hepburn and Rufus King of the committee's legal staff that they would produce him "on a moment's notice" any time this week.

A fresh inquiry into crime conducted in New York City will be opened by the committee here Wednesday. It will run for three days and, despite the objections of some senators, to "a vaudeville show" will be televised.

It was doubtful whether Cohen would get a spot on the program. The committee has a full list of witnesses already booked for the time available, but it may be possible to crowd him in.

While the search for Zwillman, a six-foot, 200-pound figure, centered in the Boston area, Richard Moser, the Crime committee's chief counsel, ordered a nationwide alert from New York. Zwillman has a tobacco business at Hillsdale, N. J.

Moser said Zwillman apparently is a fugitive from the committee, adding, "this former big-time bootlegger is believed to be bigger than (Frank) Costello, but so far more successful in avoiding the public spotlight."

Costello, a New York racketeer and a power in politics there, has been indicted for contempt of Congress after refusing to answer questions at a televised committee hearing.

America Lures Reds With TV

Berlin, (AP)—"It's wonderful. It's a marvel of technology and something we never thought to see."

Thus a German youth from Thuringia in the Russian occupation zone described his first glimpse of television yesterday in free West Berlin.

The American-sponsored television exhibition, both in black-and-white and in color, proved a tempting lure to East German Communist youth, footsore and hoarse from their continuing festival in East Berlin.

President Truman, in his greeting to West Berliners for the television exhibition, told them that "the hearts of the free world are with you." Mr. Truman said the show, sponsored by the Economic Cooperation organization (ECA), was aimed to demonstrate "how free men can work together for peace and prosperity." He added that Americans "desire and pray, as you do for a peaceful world with equal opportunity for all."

Inflation Held 'Serious Threat'

Washington (AP)—Less government spending and more taxes are needed if the country is going to lick inflation, Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) of the Congressional Economic committee declared yesterday.

O'Mahoney called his Senate-House group together to consider a warning from its staff experts that rising prices, increased inflation and three years of Federal deficits may be by-products of the nation's giant defense program.

House Passes Yellow Oleo Bill, 198-8

Harrisburg (AP)—The House last night passed legislation to permit the sale of colored oleomargarine to Pennsylvania housewives. The long-contested bill went to the Senate.

The vote was 198-8. The measure would allow the sale of yellow margarine in stores providing it is packed in plainly marked containers of one pound or less. The present ban on use of oleo by restaurants and hotels would continue.

Convictions would mean fines of up to $100 or up to 30 days jail for each the first and second offenses. Third offense cases would be liable to a fine to $1,000 or a one-year jail term or both.

Well Known New Yorker Dies Here

William F. Kenny, 83, wealthy New York building contractor and boyhood friend of the late Gov. Alfred E. Smith, died at 5:30 p.m. yesterday in Monroe County General hospital.

Kenny, who lived at Palm Beach, Fla., during recent years, had been vacationing at Skytop and was admitted to the hospital last Thursday night.

Kenny amassed a fortune estimated as high as $30,000,000 in the general contracting business. He was one of the principal financial backers of the Smith presidential campaign in 1928. Smith and Kenny grew up together on New York's lower east side.

He got his start in the contracting business with a hired team of horses. In his youth he punched cattle for three years on the Texas range and worked as a railroad "pick and shovel gang foreman."

Watching the rise of Smith in public office, he became mildly interested in politics and owned the celebrated "tiger room" where Tammany politicians and personal friends met. He denied these gatherings had any political significance.

For a time Kenny was a big investor in stocks.

Baseball was one of his favorite pastimes and in 1928 he purchased 20 per cent of the stock in the New York Giants. He was said to have quarreled with the late Charles A. Stoneham, Giant owner, and sold his stock in 1930 to Harry McNally, the millionaire brick layer.

With his contracting business returning immense profits during the 1920s, Kenny turned for a time to other fields. Ships had always interested him. He made an offer to buy the Leviathan, but was rejected. Later he tried to buy five ships of the American Merchant Lines for $1,000,000, but the deal fell through.

The body was released to Dunkelberger and Westbrook funeral home, Stroudsburg, and later taken to New York by the James A. McCabe funeral home in that city. Funeral services will take place Friday with burial in Gates of Heaven cemetery, Westchester county, N.Y.

Bomber Goes Out Of Control After Seattle Takeoff

Seattle (AP)—A roaring, four-engined B-50 bomber went suddenly out of control after a takeoff from Boeing field yesterday and smashed into a three-story hillside apartment house, bringing flaming death to more than 10 people.

Carrying 3,500 gallons of gasoline and 300 gallons of oil, the mammoth plane caught fire as she hit and turned a third of the 200-foot-long building into a raging furnace.

There were 49 apartments and 67 tenants. How many actually died may not be known for hours. Six men, three of them Boeing Airplane Co. test personnel, were aboard the plane.

Four hours after the crash, Fire Battalion Chief R. B. Rogers said nine bodies had been recovered and a tenth was being removed from the mass of twisted steel, tangled bedsprings and charred wood that marked the smoldering death scene. He said other bodies had been sighted but could not estimate the number.

Twice explosions drove workers away. An hour after the crash a fuel tank blew up and in another hour an unexplained gas explosion forced the men back.

The Boeing men were identified as Kenneth C. Barwick, 36; Earl H. Edwards, 35, and Delon P. Turner, 33, all of Seattle, the body of a woman was identified as that of Mrs. Evelyn Meabe, 25, and that of a man as Martin P. Roberts.

Others aboard the plane presumably were Air Force personnel, who would not be identified until next of kin could be notified.

The huge aircraft had gained only about 700 feet altitude when it nosed downward, then pivoted on one wing and piled into the apartment house. It made no radio report after takeoff. A tower of flame and smoke shot skyward immediately.

The scene of the 2:15 p. m. (DST) crash was a hillside behind the Seattle Brewing and Malting Co., about a mile north of Boeing field.

It crashed only 200 yards from Airport way, one of the main traffic lanes running into Seattle from the south. It is the main artery from Boeing field, which now is used mostly for small airlines and Boeing and Air Force planes.

The Air Force in a statement through Boeing Co. said the B-50 Superfortress was on an Air Force routine check flight.

It was one of a number of the four-engine bombers being modified at the Boeing plant at which they were first built. A B-50 normally carries a crew of 11.

Witnesses said the four engines seemed to be functioning well when the plane started faltering.

One wing apparently struck the side of the main brick building of the brewery before the plane crashed. A scratch mark was visible across it. Then the B-50 continued about 150 feet up the hill before hitting the end of the apartment house. It apparently plowed into it nose first.

The apartments left in the building presented a scene of panic and disorder. There was overturned furniture. Windows were broken. Food was left on tables from which tenants fled in terror.

Fire swept along the entire length of the apartment building from the gasoline spray.

Steps Up Attacks Tokyo, Tuesday (AP)—A powerful Allied naval siege group, headed by the American heavy cruiser Toledo and the Dutch destroyer Van Galen, pounded Communist communication lines far up the east coast of Korea yesterday, as much as 230 miles north of the 38th parallel.

Washington, (AP)—A strong move was reported in the Senate Finance committee yesterday to knock out the individual income tax increase plan approved by the House, and shift the blow more to the lower income groups.

Committee members said they are studying a new proposal to raise personal income tax rates by three percentage points in all brackets.

Some members predicted approval of this plan. It would work like this: in the lowest income groups the present levy of 20 per cent on taxable income would be increased to 23 per cent. In much higher income groups, where, say, the present rate is 50 per cent, the rate would go up to 53 per cent.

The House-passed tax bill would increase actual payments—not the rates—by 12½ per cent all along the line.

Both plans would raise approximately the same amount—$2,850,000,000. The difference is in who pays the bill.

NEW, MIRACLE ELECTRONIC EAR HIDES DEAFNESS

CHICAGO, (Special)—An amazing new electronic ear which hides deafness and transmits even whispers with startling clarity, has been revealed by a noted Chicago electronic scientist.

He disclosed that this miraculous new discovery has rendered old-style hearing aids obsolete almost overnight, and brings new hope to the 15 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing.

He reported that this electronic ear enables the deaf to hear without any button showing in the ear and without dangling battery wires.

To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with this new miracle electronic ear which hides deafness, full details are described in a fascinating booklet, "New Discoveries to Help the Deaf Hear."

It will be sent free in a plain wrapper to anyone who requests it. Address: Electronic Research Director, 1450 West 19th Street, 621A Belmont Building, Chicago 8, Ill. A penny postcard will do.—Adv.

Monkeys Destroy Grain U.S. Sent To India; Reverence For Animals Adds To Problem

Washington (AP)—The monkey situation in India is really tough, the House Foreign Affairs committee disclosed yesterday, what with each of the critters destroying about a dime's worth of grain every day.

The committee delved deeply into the monkey situation during hearings on the foreign aid bill. It wanted to know, among other things, why India, which recently got a grant of grain from the United States, doesn't curb the grain destroying proclivities of its countless sacred monkeys.

Horace Holmes, an expert for the State and Agriculture departments, supplied some of the answers.

Nobody knows how many monkeys there are in India, Holmes said, but "there are far too many," and they can ruin a grain field in nothing flat. What they don't eat, they destroy just for plain devilment—the destruction rate being ten cents per day per monkey according to best estimates.

"Do they multiply fast?" Chairman Richards (D-SC) wanted to know.

"Yes sir," Holmes replied. "Like, well—yes, they do, sir."

In some areas of India, Holmes said, villages hired monkey catchers to get rid of the pests, but it didn't work out so well. The monkey catchers wouldn't kill the animals. They'd turn them loose in some other village.

The reverence attached to monkeys by Indians, Holmes explained, dates way back. It seems that the beautiful wife of an Indian leader named Rama was kidnapped and taken to the island of Ceylon.

Rama was in quite a stew about it until "the king of the monkey tribe" offered to help him. With a huge army of monkeys, Rama got as far as the Palk strait, a strip of water separating Ceylon from the mainland of India.

"Rama could not get across," Holmes explained, "so the monkeys formed a bridge across there and he rode his horse over and they helped him capture his bride. For that they have a reverence for the monkeys."

Cut Restored To School Measure

Harrisburg (AP)—A Senate committee yesterday restored to $750,000 a deficiency appropriation for distribution among financially distressed school districts.

The appropriation, contained in a bill sponsored by Rep. Norman Wood (R-Lancaster), called for that amount originally, but was pared down to $270,000 in an economy move by the House.

The Senate Education committee boosted the total after appeals were made by unpaid school teachers in Schuylkill and Northumberland counties. The Senate Appropriations committee approved the education committee's action almost immediately.

The appropriation was attacked by Senate Democrats who urged that every effort be made to see whether the school districts benefitting by the allocation were really "distressed."

The Greek word from which "music" is derived was used originally for all the arts, including reading, writing and mathematics.

Be Fair to Reservists

The head of the Marine Corps Reserve Officers' Assn., Brig. Gen. Melvin J. Maas, said a mouthful the other day.

He told Congress that most of the best men we now have in the reserve will get out as soon as they are allowed to pick up their discharges.

"It is not," he said, "that they are unwilling to serve and fight, and even to die for their country in time of war, but they cannot withstand a recurrent interruption of their future every time an international police action arises or is threatened."

That's putting it in a nutshell. Although General Maas might have added that enlistment freezers, broken promises by the government and heel-dragging on the draft also have soured many of the Reservists on staying in the Reserve.

This nation needs a strong force under arms at all times. It needs an even greater trained Reserve on which to draw in a hurry in time of emergency.

A big, healthy military Reserve organization is a must in a democracy. It is the only way a democracy can maintain its guard against the threat of dictators without cutting too deeply into the standard of living which free people cherish so much.

That's why we need a solid long-range Reserve program. A program which will distribute the responsibilities of citizenship among a greater number of our citizens. A program which will treat every Reservist with fairness and frankness.

It took the Korean war to show us how badly off we were from the standpoint of military preparedness. We not only didn't have any kind of a standing army when the Far East blow-up came off; we didn't even have much of a Reserve.

To make matters worse, the Government showed it didn't even have a Reserve policy.

Nobody in authority could tell exactly how many Reservists were still fit and available for duty. In fact, nobody really knew how many of the Reservists were living. The records were in a state of snafu.

Steps have been undertaken since to correct this situation. Every branch of service is having a Reserve house-cleaning. Men who can't be called on in an emergency are being weeded out, as they should be. Others are being catalogued and their records are being brought up to date.

If we ever need these men again, let's hope we'll do a better job of mobilizing them. Let's hope there will be no more helter-skelter mustering of Reservists.

Let the Marines Do It

The Navy and Marine Corps aren't participating in the big war games at Fort Bragg, N.C., where Company 'G' is doing its stuff, because the Navy and the Air Force cannot agree on the system of air control to be used.

May we expect a similar situation to prevail if we become involved in a global war?

The current fuss is an outgrowth of the old controversy over air support of ground operations. The issue is whether command control should be exercised from the ground or the air.

The argument has been going on ever since the campaign began for an independent air force.

If the Joint Chiefs of Staff can't settle this ridiculous dispute—and apparently they cannot—the President should step in as commander-in-chief and decide the issue.

Since the Army regards the Navy-Marine system of air support better than that of the Air Force, one solution of the problem might be the enlargement of the naval air arm and its assignment to tactical support of ground operations.

Marine pilots, trained in ground tactics, have given a good account of themselves in supporting ground operations in Korea. They served with particular distinction during the Inchon landing.

Try And Stop Me

Sons of Rochester, N. Y., and surrounding territory who migrated to Manhattan and prospered there long ago founded the Society of the Genesee, which holds a banquet each year and honors one of its most successful members. One year the president was the late Louis Wiley, business manager of The New York Times. It was decided that Wiley should also be the guest of honor at the annual banquet.

Mr. Wiley accordingly summoned his secretary and dictated three letters in rapid succession. The first was an invitation to himself to accept the honor that had been bestowed upon him. The second was an answer to himself graciously accepting the nomination. The third was a note of thanks to himself for responding to the invitation so promptly.

As the secretary closed her notebook she sighed with relief and told Mr. Wiley gravely, "Pshaw! For a moment there, I didn't think you were going to get him!"

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—Watch that bounce when you walk, ladies. A hip-swing is okay—very feminine. But the rest of you shouldn't bounce.

This I get from one of New York's top models, Miss Zori Jannings. Here as technical advisor on a movie, she turned out to be so pretty that the producer very smartly decided to put her in a few scenes as well.

They're in a dress salon in "The Marriage Broker," where Jeanne Crain is supposed to be a fashion model. Miss Jannings was horrified to discover that Miss Crain had a bounce. "A short of exuberance that most of us don't feel," Zori described it. That's had?

"When Shirley Temple was this high," she said, indicating about three years, "she could get away with it. But it's very objectionable in modeling especially. You can't go modeling through life, of course. But once you've been a model, there's a tendency to carry yourself, to sit and walk, gracefully. You don't think about it, any more than a pianist thinks about his finger exercises when playing a concert."

How'd she cure Jeanne's bounce? Made her practice walking on her toes, in her stocking feet. When there's no jar of heels hitting the floor, there's no bounce. Zori spared Jeanne that book-on-the-head routine.

"I don't believe in that unless somebody's walk is almost hopeless," Miss Jannings said. "The book has a tendency to make you stand as tall as you can, but it also makes you stiff. I like the head to be held high but also to be easy and flexible."

Miss Jannings pronounced Miss Crain a "wonderful, apt" pupil who, after a little coaching, acted just like a professional model.

The basic parts of a woman's wardrobe should be of classic design. No pink and green stripes if she has to wear them Monday through Friday. She can splurge in accessories—pins, scarfs, colored gloves. But not colored shoes.

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

The Attorney General's List. The decision of the Supreme Court, in the cases involving the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee, National Council of American-Soviet Friendship, Inc., International Workers Order, Inc., is extremely important. These organizations sought their deletion from the Attorney General's list of subversive organizations. Lower courts had upheld the Attorney General's list. The Supreme Court held that these organizations had a right to sue for such deletion.

Mr. Justice Burton, who gave the majority opinion, said: "... To defend such a designation of them on the basis of the complaints alone, is an assertion of presidential authority so to designate an organization at the option of the Attorney General without reliance upon either disclosed or undisclosed facts supplying a reasonable basis for the determination. It is that, and only that, outer limit of the authority of the Attorney General that is now before us."

Further, he said: "... The organizations to be designated on that list are not limited to those having federal employees in their memberships. They may even exclude such employees from membership. Accordingly, the impact of the Attorney General's lists is by no means limited to persons who are subject to the Employees Loyalty Program."

The Supreme Court is only supposed to deal with what has been placed before it and therefore, if no one called the attention of the learned brethren to the fact of life, they are not expected to know anything about them. For instance, Hede Massing, Louis Budenz, Whittaker Chambers and others have testified under oath that they were part of Communist apparatuses outside the government, under the control of Soviet Russia, which were actually engaged in efforts to infiltrate our government, in which they succeeded in specific cases.

There is ample evidence of this kind of activity in the files of the FBI, the House Committee on Un-American Activities, and now the McCarran Committee, to establish the validity of the Attorney General's list. What the Supreme Court has actually done is to open the door for each of these organizations—there are several hundred—to go into court to force a hearing on whether their names should or should not be on the list.

Maybe that is the only just way to do it. Justice Burton says: "... The acts of the Attorney General and the Loyalty Review Board, purporting to be taken by them under authority of the executive order, have seriously and irreparably impaired, and will continue to so impair, the reputation of the organization and the moral support and good will of the American people necessary for the continuance of its charitable activities. ...

That is precisely what the list is designed to do. In the case of one of these organizations, the International Workers Order, Inc., I have before me the brief prepared by Paul W. Williams, special counsel for the Insurance department of the State of New York, which successfully sought to put this organization out of the insurance business. The brief shows: "The TWO operates through a system of more than 1,600 lodges throughout the United States. These lodges fall into sixteen nationalities societies which are administrative subdivisions of the IWO, having no separate corporate existence. In many cases much of the business of these societies is transacted in the language of the nationality group in question. These groups are as follows: "American Russian Fraternal Society; Carpatho-Russian American Mutual Aid Society; Croatian Benevolent Fraternity of America; Czech Workers Society; Douglas Lincoln Fraternal Society; Finnish American Mutual Aid Society; Garibaldi American Fraternal Society; Hellenic American Fraternal Society; Hungarian Brotherhood; Jewish Peoples Fraternal Order; Polonia Society; Roumanian American Fraternal Society; Serbian American Federation; Slovak Workers Society; Ukrainian American Fraternal Union."

The brief clearly establishes Communist propagandist activity by the International Workers Order. The Attorney General is required to show "weighty reason for departing from this instance from a rule so deeply imbedded in history and in the demands of justice. Nothing in the loyalty order requires him to deny organizations opportunity to present their case. The executive order, defining his powers, directs only that designation shall be made after appropriate investigation and determination."

This surely does not preclude an administrative procedure, however informal, which would incorporate the essentials of due process. ...

The real trouble here stems from the fact that the Attorney General's lists are a product of an executive order which does not define the word "subversive."

If we want really to get Communists, Marxist and Russian agents, out of the government, why not specifically define them as such?

deep mud, she sat for 45 minutes in the desert-hot plane, waiting for other flights to clear. ... All this discomfort because she refused to disappoint the Eagles' convention at Rochester. ... Marlene's appearance there assured the Runyon Cancer Fund of another $200,000, maybe a million, because the Eagles pledged to make it an annual event. ... Marlene is the foreign-born star who went to war zones and other lonely troop places ducked by many entertainers—Iceland, Greenland and the Crystals, which you can look up on the Arctic map.

I have bragged in print that there are no mosquitoes on Manhattan Island. That was true when written. But this Summer, for the first time in more than 20 years, the metropolitan key-stone of the Big Bug is infested with the pesky beast. There is an epidemic of bites-and-lumps. ... I remember, when I was a kid, how the diptera of the culicidae family made my life awful, for I had an unusually potent appeal for the pests. Science got to work and the New Jersey breeding grounds of the mosquito were drained. But something has happened again. A lay guess is that the huge building projects have excavated facilities in which rainwater left pools and there the buzzing blood-suckers came to life. Will investigate.

El and Pegen Fitzgerald, the popular early morning radio and afternoon TV spicers, have left the hotel which was long their home and headquarters, and now occupy a lavish pent-house on upper Fifth Avenue. Reminds me of the one about the rising young go-getter who would never be satisfied until he had a roof under his feet.

Babe King, the doll-faced honey who was a pet of the Broadway set that gathered nightly in Billy Ladd's Tavern, died in a New York hospital, of cancer. ... She was the adored of Fred Perry, gambler-sportsman, who in the Texas Guinan era proudly displayed her in the lively places and expressed his rating of her class by showering $500 tips around—not only to waiters and waitresses, but to busboys, orchestra-leaders, hat-check-gals, entertainers. He carried a sheaf of $500 bills in one special pocket for this sort of largesse. Now I don't even know what's become of him, any more than I do what's become of those swift, insane speak-easy nights. But I cannot forget the smiling face of Babe, and how she loved life—loved the life.

Ethel Merman's estranged husband, Bob Levitt, sustained a broken back (fracture) in an accident in Colorado.

Marlene Dietrich, who was decorated by France for her war work, waited four hours at New York Airport in the oppressive, thunderstormy humidity for a plane to take off for Rochester. Drenched and soaked in ankle-depended upon government contracts and government favors in order to make a living. And we must remember that they will be fighting for their lives in 1952.

The federal payroll has become war-swollen and the great army of new jobholders, especially in the upper pay brackets, will be subject to tremendous pressures to assure a heavy turnout of administration supporters at the polls. The customary golden promises to this and that class and special interest groups will be held forth as vote bait.

The best advice I have ever received in my relatively brief political career was to "always run scared" regardless of how easy the race might appear to be. You would think we Republicans would not need such advice, but apparently some have forgotten the lessons they should have learned in 1948. Let us hope that in 1952 we will remember that an election is never won until the votes are counted.

There is still much of the Japanese custom in Europe. There, too, brides are chosen by the parents. Marriage settlements are made on the children, and the whole thing is done on a business-like basis.

It doesn't sound very romantic, but the divorce rate is far lower than it is here in the United States.

I mentioned the Tunnel of Love before. I was afraid that too many marriages in the United States ARE Tunnel-of-Love marriages.

"Paul Hartman escorting a pretty young girl around town who's a ringer for his estranged wife, Grace."

That's from one of the gossip columns which also reports that the Tunnel of Love in Coney Island's Siegfried Park shows an increase of 46 per cent in business.

Very sorry, I have always felt by the way for Paul and Grace Hartman ever since they parted company.

They seemed such a happy couple, and their crazy antics were so natural that it seems a shame to see them broken up.

But why is it that when two married people come to the parting of the ways, the next Mr. and Mrs. is always someone who is almost a duplicate of the original?

Take the Hutton girl, for instance. She goes in for European princelings. It seems that one or two might be enough. But no, she has to get her fingers—or rather her pocketbook—burned over and over again by the same type of men.

Taise Rita Hayworth. She is hardly through with all the publicity about her marriage with the Ali Khan when already the gossip mongers report her being seen trysting with some other dusky-hued potentate.

I wonder whether perhaps the Japanese way of finding a wife for one's son is not the better one, after all.

Emperor Hirohito is doing just that at the moment for his seventeen-year-old son, Crown Prince Akihito.

In the past, imperial princes weren't consulted at all. The bride-to-be was carefully examined by court attaches and, when the proper girl was found, the prince was presented to her and told "This is it."

Whether or not the marriage turned out all right was a horse of a different color.

Shudda Haddim At The SPA

Shudda Haddim, the well-known $2 better, is at Saratoga, the cradle of American racing, where he can't lose a bet before 3 p. m. He is usually in the bag long before that hour. He first got confirmation it was the "Saratoga-at-Saratoga-Positively-at-Saratoga" meeting and not the Albany at Perth Amboy session. Shudda Haddim feels he is the Saratoga type as he has a touch of gout, looks good in a rocking chair and doesn't mind sleeping in a hall room with an old Elm protruding through the wall.

Shudda Haddim informs us that he visited the new Racing Museum just dedicated in the old Canfield Casino for the purpose of recapitulating and preserving the spirit of early racing in America. "It's wonderful," he says. "They got the first dice ever rolled north of Poughkeepsie, a photo of the first man expelled from the Saratoga racetrack clubhouse for using the wrong fork and a painting of the inventor of the coil-of-rope fire escape."

"The museum also has a program marked for Lillian Russell by Jim Fiske, a photograph of General Grant saying, 'I propose to fight it out on this line if it takes all August' after losing the first four races, a two-dollar bill worth of money and the first frankfurter and roll ever admitted to the Saratoga races."

"In a glass" case they have the shirt never lost by Bet-a-Million a man was hanged for coming to Gates. Also a gibbet on which a man was hanged for coming to the track here without a necktie. There is a genuine Saratoga hotel elevator with some Civil War period guests still in it asking for the second floor. One of the most interesting relics is a photo of President Cleveland being chased down the railroad tracks for saying that racing was nice but that fishing was more fun. Another is a picture of Frank Sullivan declaring at the age of four that Saratoga was the greatest city on earth. There are oil paintings of Seashore beating William Jennings Bryan, Jim Dandy winning over Shamrock III, and the dead heat between Tom Dewey and Estes Kefauver.

"I seen the spittoon in which one of America's earliest playboys once spat. And the museum has the stuffed thoroughbred that Diamond Jim Brady was looking at when he finished a five-course dinner and said, 'I am so hungry I could eat a horse.' There are some notes left on a dresser by Edna Ferber when writing 'Saratoga Trunk' and a hair from the original beard of Monty Woolley."

"Was there anything in the museum that stood out above all else?" we asked.

"I would name two," said Shudda Haddim. "A bed from the first residence where the owner decided to rent most of the house to strangers in August, and a copy of the first proposal that gambling be barred by Saratoga during the racing meet. The proposal was one of several hundred. It's interesting on account of they just acted on it this summer."

Police Seeking Geraldine Furlong

Monroe and Pike county State police last night were trying to locate Geraldine Furlong, of Highland, N. J., in regard to a death in her family.

Believed vacationing somewhere in the Poconos, she was requested to contact her father, Stroudsburg State police received the call for assistance from New Jersey authorities.

Bangor Group Plans Meeting

Bangor — The Bangor War Memorial committee will meet tomorrow night at Bangor park to receive reports on the recent benefit carnival and to further plans for park advancement.

Television By Series Of Mirrors

Sacramento, Calif. (AP)—George W. Kister has figured out how to watch his living room television set while he's upstairs in bed.

He does it with mirrors—four of them.

The first one—above the davenport—reflects the program to a larger mirror above the fireplace.

From there it goes to a mirror at the top of the stairs and then on to the fourth mirror in Kister's bedroom.

"It works swell," says Kister.

Congress Eyes Adjournment In October

Washington (AP)—Democratic leaders began talking yesterday about Congress going home in October. But it may be wishful thinking in the August heat.

There's still a mountain of work to be moved if Congress even makes a dent in the huge pile of bills introduced since January 1.

To date, a total of 7,130 measures have been offered—5130 in the House and 200 in the Senate. Only 115 of them have become law—that is passed by both Houses and approved by the President.

Senate Democratic Leader McFarland (Ariz.) told reporters after a White House conference with President Truman and top party leaders that he hopes to close shop on October 1.

That would indicate the great bulk of the bills now pending will be left for the second session of the 82nd Congress next year—the big political year.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) wasn't as optimistic as McFarland. He said he had "no idea" when Congress would be able to quit work. He added he hopes the House will be in a position late next week to start a ten-day recess.

The major work still to be done is all highly controversial. It includes money bills, foreign aid and taxes.

a week's illness, and Louis Hunt is still confined to his home.

George Kearn will represent the local chapter at the national convention to be held in Buffalo, N. Y., next month.

Red Cross To Let Chapters Join Others In Fund Drives

Washington, (AP)—The American National Red Cross yesterday amended its policy to permit local chapters to cooperate with community or federated fund raising agencies in joint solicitation of industries or business firms where only one annual solicitation is permitted.

The revision in policy was decided upon at a special meeting of the board of governors.

E. Roland Harriman, president of the Red Cross, said in a statement:

"The board's action does not change the basic Red Cross fund raising policy which is that the Red Cross must raise its own money for its own needs.

"We have recognized however," he added, "the desire of certain community leaders to hold a single industrial solicitation for welfare and charitable purposes. We have been given assurances by a number of industrial, business and labor leaders that a single campaign of this character is necessary in the interest of manpower conservation and other economies."

The board's action does not change the basic Red Cross fund raising policy which is that the Red Cross must raise its own money for its own needs.

The Allied occupation of Germany may end this year.

Developments in European affairs certainly point to its early demise. This does not mean that Allied troops will be withdrawn. But they will be short of police powers and special privileges of victory, and remain as representatives of General Eisenhower's European Army, which Germany will be joining.

Negotiations over the unified European Army and West Germany's whole relation with European defense have made it clear that hers must be a position of full political equality. That has developed as the prime factor in drawing up the new "contractual" relationship which will substitute for the occupation statute and for the peace treaty which must await a general settlement.

Up to now the Allies have retained the right to step back into any aspect of German life if the circumstances seemed to require it. For instance, there was always lurking in the background the possible need for intervention against the rise of a new Hitler. But under the impulse for general European defense against the Russian threat, that idea apparently will be yielded.

The Allies will retain certain positions which will be involved in any general European settlement. They will continue to deal with Russia on all matters regarding the present division of Germany and the hope for reunification. The Allied position in Berlin, where the designs of east and west meet in almost daily clash, will be unchanged. The Allies will continue to handle boundary matters, involving such things as the Saar and the eastern territories now held by Poland. The Germans themselves would not have this any other way.

The Allied High commission, however, is to go. The Allies will handle their business with Germany through embassies as before the war. The Bonn government's control over the area now subject to it will be complete.

These matters are, of course, a source of nervousness for France. Especially when it comes to giving up the right of intervention in German internal affairs. But her top leaders, such as Plevin and Schuman, are believed ready to face up to a situation made evident during the negotiations over the Army and the Schuman plan. Lower echelons in France are expected to follow when the chips are down, however reluctantly.

There does not seem to be any fixed timetable for these developments. The Schuman plan is yet to be put into effect. This contract for the pooling of Western Europe's coal and steel resources, with its insurance against mobilization of industry for war between Germany and France, is of course the basis of the whole deal. It is expected to get final approval by the different governments very soon.

Relief Rolls Decline Again

Monroe county's public assistance rolls registered their 14th consecutive semi-monthly decline during the last half of July, according to figures released yesterday by the Department of Public Assistance.

A year ago about 3.2 per cent of the county's population was on the public assistance rolls. Current report shows that only 2.2 per cent are receiving assistance.

That percentage figure represents 735 persons spread over the following categories:

General assistance 19, old age assistance 377, aid to dependent children 220, aid to disabled 73, and blind pension 46.

One of the major causes for the decline results from renewed efforts of department personnel to have every employable person become self-sustaining through private employment. Expansion of industry to meet defense needs has also been an important contributing factor.

Mrs. Carrie Frey Honored At Rites

South Sterling — Funeral services for Mrs. Carrie Frey, wife of Russell E. Frey, were held yesterday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the Frey funeral home, South Sterling. Rev. Harry Roof, pastor of the South Sterling Methodist church, assisted by Rev. Frederick Fulmer, pastor of the Newfoundland Moravian church, officiated at the services.

Palbearers were Clifford Meyer, Clayton Chapman, Donald Shotton, Herman Wood, Joseph Jacobs, and Tamier Brown. Burial was in the South Sterling cemetery.

Boy Suffers Concussion In Fall At Pool

Bangor — Lincoln Hower, Jr., 11-year-old son of Mrs. Alma Hower, 115 N. Seventh St., Bangor, suffered a concussion at the Bangor Park swimming pool Saturday. According to reports last night, his condition was satisfactory.

He fell from the high diving board and landed on the water's edge striking the concrete and rolling into the water. He was dragged out by swimmers nearby at the time of the accident.

Dr. J. G. Oliver, of Pen Argyl, was called and administered first aid. Hower was then taken to the Easton hospital by the Blue Valley ambulance.

Conferees Vote Personnel Cut

Washington (AP)—A special committee of the Senate and House agreed yesterday on a compromise plan to reduce payrolls 10 per cent in many government departments.

Members said the formula, if approved by Congress, would be applied first to the independent Federal offices, those not under Cabinet officers. It is expected to serve as a model for other money bills, however, and if it does, 40,000 jobs might be eliminated.

The agreement came as the conference committee worked on settling differences in House and Senate versions of the big independent offices bill. Both chambers will have to pass on the compromise before it can become law.

Coaster Derby Plans Laid By Bangor Lodge

Bangor — Plans for the National Coaster Derby to be held in Bangor September 8 were furthered last night at a meeting of the State City Lodge 72, Order of Moose. Governor Charles Fetherman presided.

The committee in charge of the coaster derby will meet again later next week to prepare the final plans.

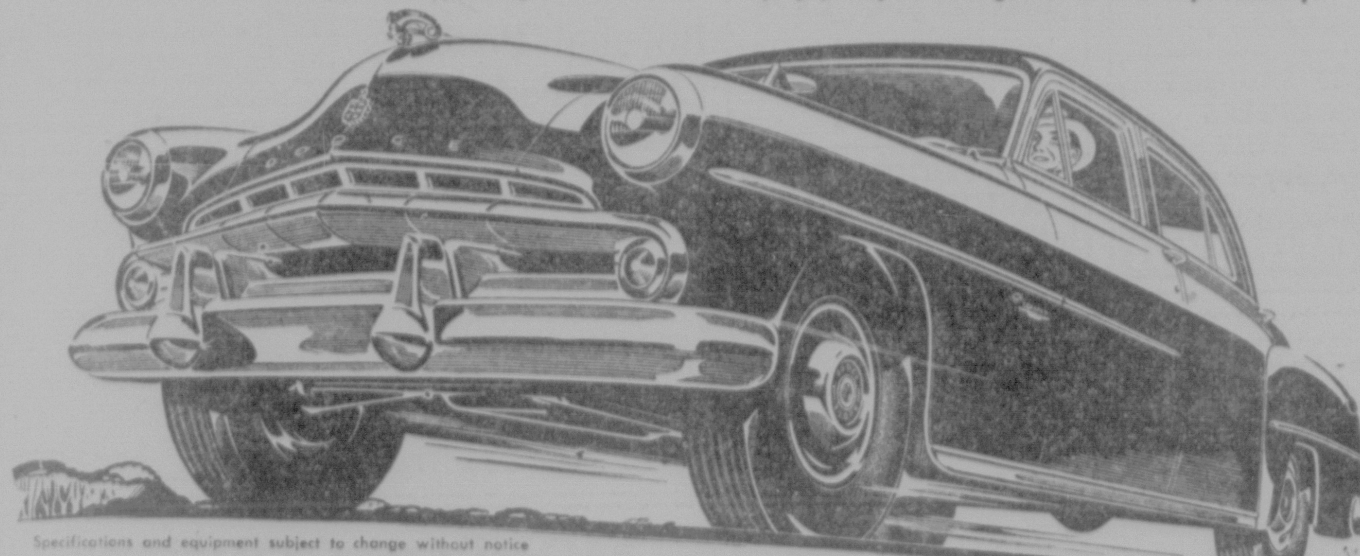

An announcement was made that the annual clam bake will be held September 9 at the VFW home in Meyers Crossing.

"Why Our Family owns 13 Dodge cars!"

"I was first in our large family to own a Dodge," says Frank Perrotti, Woodbridge, Conn. "But it didn't take long for the rest of the Perrotti family to follow suit. Yes, once they saw my Dodge, rode in it, compared it with the cars they were driving, they all began to swing over to Dodge. Today our family owns 13 Dodge cars and 11 Dodge trucks... and that's saying plenty for Dodge value and dependability."

You could pay up to $1,000 more and not get all the extra room, riding comfort and famous dependability of Dodge

ONCE you get a taste of Dodge roominess and comfort... once you see Dodge bigger dollar-for-dollar VALUE... your good judgment tells you that here is the car for you and your family!

New Riding Comfort

Today you want a car that's built to last... one that saves you money mile after mile. And you want comfort, too. You want a car that protects you from bumps and jolts—even over back country roads or detours. With the new Dodge Offroad Ride, bumpy roads, ruts and chuck holes magically melt away. Wheels stay on the ground... no wheel "hop"... no back seat bounce. You literally "float" down roads that stop other cars!

Don't Take Our Word

Get behind the wheel. Feel the relaxing comfort of Dodge knee-level seats. Note the extra head room, elbow room and shoulder room. Sample Dodge easy handling, in traffic and on the open road. Then judge for yourself. If you don't agree that you could pay up to $1,000 more for a car and still not get everything today's big Dodge gives you.

A "MAGIC-MILE" DEMONSTRATION RIDE WILL PROVE DODGE EXTRA VALUE AND DEPENDABILITY!

Feeling is Believing! You sit and ride in comfort in a Dodge. None of that crowding in, cramped up feeling. There's loads of elbow room, plenty of stretch-out leg room and head room.

Spend Five Minutes. Save $1,000! Come in for a five-minute "Magic-Mile" demonstration ride. Let us prove you could pay up to $1,000 more and still not get everything Dodge gives you!

Friction Proof Rebuilt Motors

Mike Carlton, of Mike's Tydol Service station, 100 Park Ave. in South Stroudsburg, says friction proofing rebuilt motors reduces "break-in" time! Protects against damage when parts are "tight"! Use Wynn's friction proofing oil (ceranase additive-yellow label).

During assembly, saturate bearings, rings, cylinder walls and other parts with a 50-50 solution of Wynn's friction proofing oil and S.A.E. 10 motor oil. Before operating, add 1 pint of Wynn's friction proofing oil to each 5 quarts of S.A.E. 10 oil in crankcase. Motor should run smoothly, and at normal temperature. If there are signs of heating up, stop motor and allow to cool. Re-start and repeat procedure until operation is normal. Do not pour anything through carburetor during this process. Unless a bearing or part is far too tight, normal operation will be obtained more quickly and safely by friction proofing than by any other way. A friction proofed re-built motor usually starts without towing!

NOTE: With new or re-built motors, friction proofing slows up the "seating" of the rings through its wear-resistant film. There may be slight oil consumption during the first 2,000 miles, but this is preferable to the scoring and excessive tapering of cylinder walls that often results from the old-fashioned, harsh wearing-in methods.

'Heaven Can Wait' Opens Week's Run At Playhouse

Mountainhome—Merriment went over the bounds when a large audience roared and chuckled at the fantastic comedy "Heaven Can Wait," opened for a week's run at the Pocono Playhouse.

Starring Dane Clark, the dynamic Hollywood star, the play proved fascinating and delightful from opening to closing curtain. It is a story of a young prize-fighter, pilot Joe Pendleton, who is carried off to Heaven by mistake 60 years ahead of time. While "Mr. Jordan," the celestial manager, is trying to get matters straightened out, Joe's body is cremated by his manager and now a new one has to be found for his return to earth. Choice lies among a number of people about to be killed and the pug first takes that of a malevolent playboy-tycoon, finally ending up as K. O. Mordock. He gets the girl he wants and forgets all about who he was before.

Dane Clark, who at one time in his past was a prize-fighter, gives one of the most excellent and convincing performances in the portrayal of the young promising pugilist, who was always "in the pink of condition" and Casey Walters, as Max Levene, his manager.

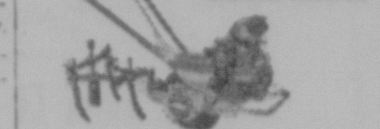

Crash Of RAF Planes Kills 8

Hudswell, England (AP)—Two Royal Air Force planes collided in flight yesterday, killing eight men and seriously injuring another.

The planes, a Wellington bomber carrying a crew of seven and a two-seater Martinette, crashed high over Hudswell and came hurtling to the ground simultaneously.

One man who parachuted from the wreckage was taken to a hospital in serious condition. The rest died in their planes. The two aircraft had been on a routine training flight over Yorkshire.

Housecleaning Easier With Spred Satin

Spred Satin is so very easy to apply and even easier to keep clean! It's amazing how much simpler housecleaning will be when your walls are painted with Spred Satin. Yes, it sounds unbelievable; dirt is literally repelled by the smooth, emulsified synthetic rubber Satin film. Household dirt and finger smudges wipe off with soap and water without ever showing streaks! You can clean or spot-wash Satin a thousand times. It's the world's most pleasant paint to use, because it's free of irritating fumes and obnoxious odors; use it any time, winter or summer. It won't upset the household. Paints on plaster, wallpaper and very nicely over woodwork. More women are doing their own decorating with Satin and are so happy their walls have a professional look.

Do yourself a favor and stop in at Auer's Paint Store, 1016 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, and select the paints you need to redecorate your home this coming fall season. It's not too early to start now.

Court Sentences Polish Officers As Traitors, Spies

Warsaw, Poland, (AP)—A Warsaw military court sentenced nine high-ranking Polish Army officers to long prison terms yesterday after a 14-day trial in which they were convicted of treason, spying and conspiracy to overthrow this country's Communist regime.

Four generals were sentenced to life imprisonment; three colonels to 15 years; a major to 12 years; and a lieutenant-commander to 10 years. All were sentenced to loss of all rights for five years and to confiscation of their property.

The sentences were considered light. However, the trial may be a prelude to a much larger one.

(Poland's leaders are believed about ready for a trial of former leading Communists who are accused of Titoism—that is, of adopting an attitude of independence with regard to the Soviet Union.)

Reserves To Get Notice Of Recall

Washington (AP)—A House armed services subcommittee decided yesterday to require by law that the services give military reservists plenty of advance notice before recall to duty.

The new reserve bill, now being written by the subcommittee, headed by Rep. Brooks (D-La.), would require a minimum 30 days notice "unless military conditions as determined by the appropriate secretary do not permit." Witnesses from the services and reserve associations conceded that the section would merely write out in law the present policy of the Defense department.

The new reserve bill would make clear to every reservist his priority of recall. A ready reserve could be called in limited emergencies and a standby reserve called only in an all-out war.

Red Stevedores Appeal To U. S. To End Boycott

Leghorn, Italy (AP)—The Communist-controlled stevedores' association yesterday offered the U. S. Army wide concessions if it would end its boycott on hiring members of the Red-ruled group.

Col. Norman H. Vissering of Lake Wales, Fla., commander of the new U. S. base here, has been employing only non-Communists who do not belong to the Red-ruled group, fearing that despite promises of no political strikes the Red leaders might call a walkout at a critical moment.

A one-day protest strike called by the Communist-controlled dockers has ended. Unloading of merchant ships went ahead as usual yesterday.

Mrs. Smith, Formerly Of County, Dies

Nazareth — Mrs. Marie Elizabeth Smith, 65, wife of George A. Smith, Nazareth, RD 1, and former resident of Ross Township, Monroe county, died Saturday at Hall's hospital, Northampton.

Born in Palmerton, she was the daughter of the late Edward and Elizabeth May Moyer Long. A resident of Nazareth for the past 33 years, Mrs. Smith was a member of the St. John's Lutheran church, Nazareth.

She is survived by her husband, a brother, Christian Long, of East Greenville; a sister, Mrs. Minnie Brightcliff, Philadelphia and two stepbrothers, Victor Daniel, of Emmaus; and William Daniel, of Catasauqua.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at St. John's Lutheran church, Nazareth. Rev. H. C. Snyder, pastor of the church, will officiate. Interment will be in the Hope cemetery, Hecktown. Friends and relatives may pay their respects Wednesday from 7 to 9 p. m. at the Knecht funeral home, Nazareth.

There is no authentic record of the origin of the office of Poet-Laureate of England. It is assumed that Geoffrey Chaucer (1328-1400) was one of the first to bear the title.

Sister Kenny Incurably Ill, Says 'No Need To Be Sorry'

Sydney, Australia, (AP)—Sister Elizabeth Kenny, a controversial figure for 40 years in the fight against polio, told reporters yesterday she has an incurable disease and "I do not know how long I will live."

"There is no need for me to be sorry," she told a reporter for the Sydney Morning Herald in an interview in her hotel lounge. "I have done my work. My discovery has been recognized."

A Sydney Sun reporter said Miss Kenny, 65, looked ill but did not name the disease.

She plans to fly to the United States Thursday on the way to an international poliomyelitis conference in Copenhagen, Denmark. A nurse will go along.

She said she decided to take a plane, instead of a ship, because "I might never have arrived at the conference if I did that."

"If I weaken too much then I am gone," she explained.

Friendly Challenge

Drive at least two new cars, this time, before you decide to buy—and be sure one of them is a new 1951 Packard!

And why do we issue this challenge? The two best reasons in the world:

- 1 Until you drive a new 1951 Packard, you just don't know what's been happening in the automotive world. That's something you owe yourself!
- 2 The best advertising is "word-of-mouth" advertising. Whether or not you buy a Packard, it's to our advantage to start you talking about the advancements that make Packard the newest new car of the year. That's something we owe ourselves!

P.S. We know from experience that today's most thoughtful buyers will gladly accept this challenge.

New 1951 Packard Patrician "400"—most advanced motor car in America. Car details as shown subject to change without notice.

Some "eye-openers" that await you on your Packard "Challenge Drive":

Top-compression power: New Packard Thunderbolt Engines give you the efficiency of America's biggest-compression eight. Plus: service-free simplicity—up to 25% fewer working parts than in engines of comparable power.

Ultramatic Drive—a Packard exclusive that combines (1) the smoothness of no gear-changing during acceleration with (2) the efficiency of no slippage when cruising.

New kind of vision: Packard's new, low-level bonnet lets you see both front fenders from behind the wheel.

New steering magic: Thanks to new ideas in steering design and weight distribution, you can actually maneuver a Packard, in traffic, with as little effort as it takes to turn a door knob!

New kind of ride: Packard's exclusive broad-beam, "self-controlling" suspension system combines gentleness with firm roadability in a way no other ride can equal.

New everything: And all of it is backed by the greatest durability record in all of motordom. Fact: Of all the Packards built, in the last 52 years, over 50% are still in service!

It's more than a car—it's a

BUILDS MODELS THAT WORK

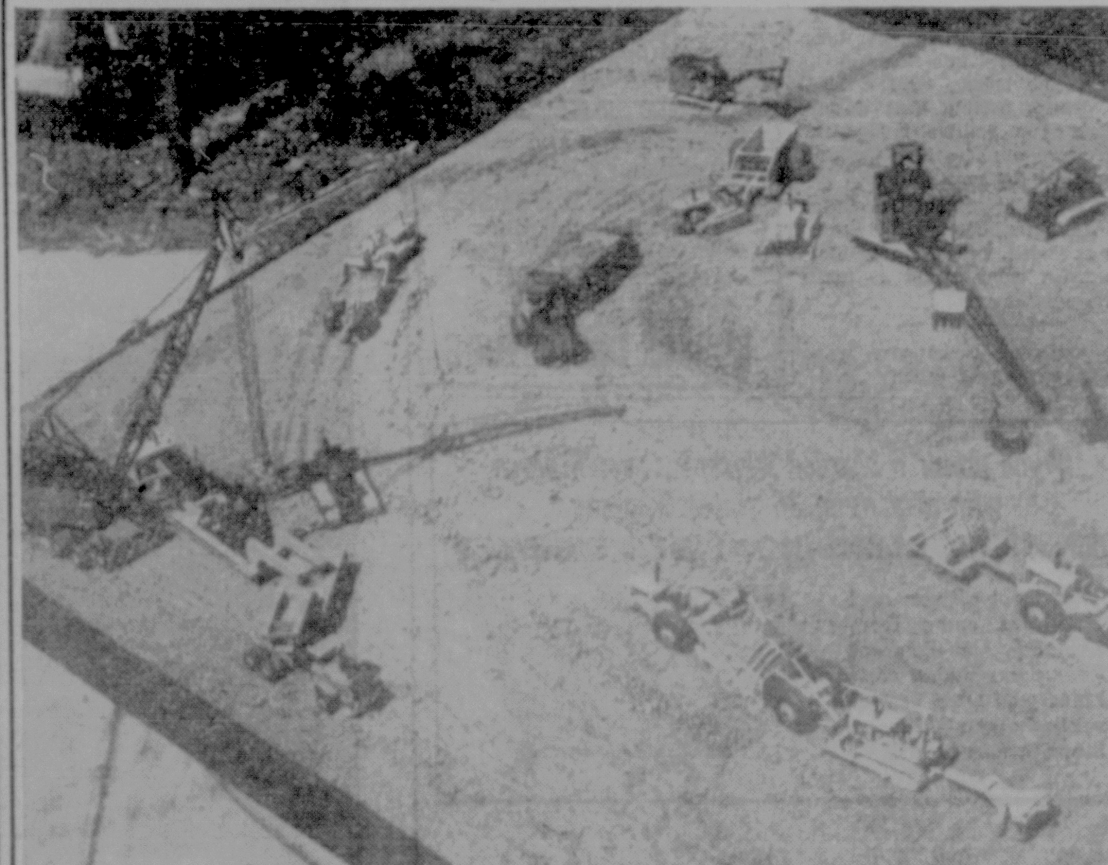

THE FACT that Gene Trumble, 15, Santa Monica, Cal., likes to build models of earth-moving machinery isn't unusual. But Gene's models work. His cranes lift, his shovels dig and his trucks roll. In fact, his models are so realistic that movie studios rent them for their miniature sets. Manufacturers of the machines he duplicates have their eye on Gene, too. He writes in for their plans and builds exact replicas in miniature. Gene's parents hope for a bright future for their skillful son, but Gene's greatest ambition is to drive a tractor.

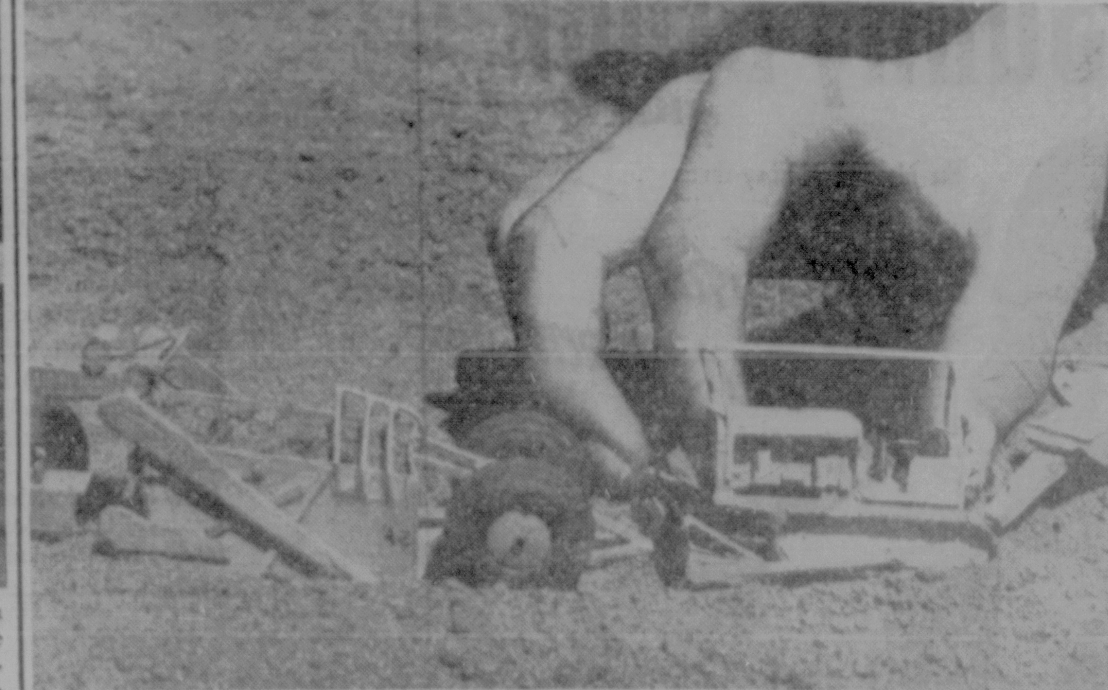

Gene Trumble admires the model of a crane he built to scale. At age of 4, he drew a crane.

These models made by Gene are from plans furnished him by companies making machines.

Looks like a construction project closed down for the day; actually they are Gene's models.

All of Gene's models of earth-moving machines are so perfect that movie studios rent them.

28th Division Moves Toward Front At Dawn

Fort Bragg, N. C. (AP) — Artillery units of the 28th Infantry Division moved toward the front yesterday in support of the 82nd Airborne Division as the first phase of Exercise "Southern Pine" maneuvers began.

Movement started before dawn. Shortly after the tactical "play" of the maneuver began at midnight, patrols contacted "aggressor" enemy forces in the vicinity of Little Rock Fish creek, near the start of the maneuver area.

The "aggressor" units have not been identified, but numerous prisoners were taken for questioning. The aggressors are known to have seven divisions in the so-called "Carolina wedge" which was formed by an imaginary invasion of South Carolina by the enemy.

For the purposes of the maneuver, the objective of VII Corps, of which the 28th Division is a part, is Galtier swamp, located about 30 miles from present division positions.

The 82nd Airborne Division was ordered to move up and attack the aggressor forces immediately after contact was made. The 28th Division gave the 82nd artillery support because airborne divisions do not normally have a full complement of field artillery attached to them.

When the infantry of the 28th would move was uncertain by early yesterday morning, but all over the huge 28th Division bivouac areas preparations were being made to move as soon as the order is given.

Seaman Returns From Korea, Relates Experiences Abroad Warships That Blasted Reds

Seaman Ralph Edwin Strunk, son of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Strunk, 51 Brown St., East Stroudsburg, home after a 10-month stretch in Korea, yesterday related some of the experiences he encountered while overseas.

Seaman Strunk, a former carrier for the Daily Record, enlisted in the Navy on July 27, 1950, and took his recruit training at the San Diego Navy base, San Diego, Cal. After recruit training, he was assigned to the Leonard F. Mason, a destroyer.

Rites Planned On Thursday For Christman

Funeral services for Samuel Christman, 76, former resident of Kresgeville who died Sunday in Reading, will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Kresge funeral home, Brodheadsville.

Rev. William Gieger, pastor of the Albrightsville Lutheran church, will officiate. Interment will be in the Albrightsville cemetery.

Mr. Christman, who resided in the west end of Monroe county most of his life, left for Reading in 1943, where he resided with his daughter, Mrs. Clare Smith. He was employed as a lumber man and carpet weaver.

Surviving are his daughter, a stepdaughter, Mrs. Annie E. Hen-

Leaving San Diego on Nov. 13, 1950, his ship sailed directly to Korea where it served as an escort for the battleships Missouri and New Jersey. He told how the Mason was one of the task force accompanying the two battleships when they shelled Wonsan earlier in the war. He said that his destroyer, along with the heavier ships, took part in the bombardment.

He also recalled the time when a group of Italian volunteers were surrounded by enemy troops and made a radio call to his destroyer for supporting fire. Moving in close to shore, the Mason immediately opened up on the Reds and blasted a gap in the Red trap through which the Italian troops were able to get back to United Nations lines.

While in the Far East, he visited two of Japan's largest cities, Tokyo and Yokohama. He said that they were just as modern as any American city, only that living conditions were very crowded.

"They appreciate all the Americans are doing for them," Strunk said, "but there are more people than there is food, and they find it very difficult to make a go of it."

Remarkable about the dressing habits of the Japanese, he said that almost all the Japanese now dress the same as any American would. He also paid a compliment to the Japanese women by saying that he saw many beautiful girls while visiting in Japan.

Before joining the Navy, Seaman Strunk attended the East Stroudsburg school. Leaving school in his senior year, he worked for a firm in Lehigh Valley; three grandchildren and one great grandchild. His wife, Hanna Christman, died in 1942.

Stroudsburg Woman's Club Executives Plan For Year

The summer executive board meeting of the Woman's club of Stroudsburg was held in the club rooms at the Stroud Community House yesterday afternoon with the president, Mrs. George T. Robinson, in charge.

At the opening Mrs. Robinson presented the executives elected for the 1951-52-53 period as follows: First vice president, Mrs. Walter N. Caulfield; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Parke W. Kunkle; 3rd vice president, Mrs. Leo J. Dornbos; recording secretary, Mrs. Frank H. French, Cor. secretary Mrs. J. Frank J. Grimm; Asst. Secy. Mrs. Harold C. Eaton, and treasurer, Mrs. Claude Cramer.

The directors of the club are Mrs. W. Dolby Palmer, Mrs. Floyd Bachman and Mrs. Eugene H. Martin, past president.

The members of the various departments were also announced by the president.

Mrs. French read the minutes of the previous meeting.

Mrs. James Cummings, president of the Junior club, gave details of the Fall Fashion Show, sponsored by them for the benefit of the Salvation Army. The show will be held in the auditorium of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, September 19, at 8 p. m. The title appropriately given the show is "Cinderella's Shopping Spree."

It was announced by Mrs. A. A. Holbrook, president of Monroe County Federation of Women's clubs that the Federation meeting will be October 5 when the Keystone Community club, of Matamoras, will act as hosts in their club.

William Wyckoff spoke briefly relative to the Community Chest drive and expressed his appreciation to the club for their past assistance and asked their cooperation on the drive again this year.

Mrs. Irving B. Kiffin, chairman of the Discussion group, announced that the topic for the next discussion will be announced later, but that November is the month for World Affairs group to meet.

The first meeting for the new calendar of the club activities will be held October 8 in the ballroom of the Penn-Stroud hotel and will be in the form of a luncheon beginning at 1 p. m., as announced by Mrs. Leo J. Dornbos, hospitality chairman.

Mrs. Parke W. Kunkle, program chairman and second vice president, gave her report for the entertainment and other features for the coming year and outlined plans accordingly.

Mrs. Walter Caulfield announced there were 45 babies brought to the well baby clinic in June, of which five were new. In July, there were 58 babies brought to the clinic, four of whom were new.

The following members were appointed to assist at the clinic: Mrs. Hugh Brannum, Mrs. M. F. Crowe, Mrs. James R. Gavin, Misses Lucille and Almee Girard, Mrs. William A. Hannas, Mrs. Alford J. Meyers, Mrs. Howard Ruckerfeller, Mrs. Fred Scheller and Mrs. Horace Walters.

Substitutes are as follows: Mrs. Howard Eckert, Mrs. Elwood Grant, Mrs. Edward Kenney, Mrs. Will L. Kraemer, Mrs. Charles Mott, Mrs. Eli Travis and Mrs. Gerald Anderson.

Portland 1916 Class Reunion Held At Weekend

Portland — The first reunion of the class of 1916 of the Portland High school was held on Saturday afternoon and evening at "Barmarba", the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Transue and son Barry. A barbeque supper was served. An enjoyable time was had and it was decided to make a reunion an annual affair.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edwards, daughter Betsey, of Chatham, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Martin Smith, of Easton; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Astheimer, of Stroudsburg; Mrs. Philip Craig, of Columbia, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. William Hyde, of Mt. Bethel.

Dr. and Mrs. Howard Ott, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. James Weidman Jr., Miss Ruth Jones, of town, and

Nancy Spaulding Is Honored At Unique Party

Miss Nancy Ann Spaulding, daughter of Toni Spaulding, WVPO radio personality, was guest of honor at a birthday party held on the spacious lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clark, 10 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, Saturday afternoon, August 11, at 4 o'clock.

It was a most unusual party as the lawn was decorated in the circus atmosphere complete with "Big Top," refreshment stands, grandstand and circus music filling the Ninth St. neighborhood.

The highlight of the party was when the young guests moved to the "Big Top" for birthday cake, ice cream and pink lemonade and found there also, instead of place cards, individually wrapped gifts for all the little guests. Needless to say, the youngsters had a big time.

Games were played and prizes were distributed. Several of the young ladies put on a show much to the amusement of the parents.

Among the guests were: Miss Nancy Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Hall, station manager of WVPO; the Misses Judith and Brenda Martin, Nancy and Mary Teeter, Jeanette and Sister Munson and Nancy Ann Spaulding, guest of honor who celebrated her seventh birthday. The only guest unable to attend due to her departure for camp, was Miss Mary Jane Hintze.

Adults in attendance were: Mrs. Mary DiSpaldo, Miss Spaulding's grandmother and mother of Toni; Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Teeter and Mr. and Mrs. Elton Hall.

Miss Mildred Cramer Is John Fetherman's Bride

The East Stroudsburg Methodist church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Mildred Grace Cramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cramer, of 3 Garfield Ave., East Stroudsburg, and John F. Fetherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Fetherman, of Delaware Water Gap, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The impressive double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Harold C. Eaton, pastor, in the presence of numerous relatives and friends of the couple.

The church was decorated with bouquets of gladioli. Ernest Michelfelder, church organist, provided wedding music. The soloist was Durrell Mader.

The attendants were Mrs. Stanley Dennis, sister of the bridegroom, as matron-of-honor, and Francis Merwin, of Brodheads-ville, brother-in-law of the bride, as best man.

The bride was attired in an electric blue street length taffeta and lace gown with white accessories and matching hat and gloves. She wore a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

The matron-of-honor wore a light blue street length organza dress with matching accessories, hat and gloves and a corsage of red rosebuds.

The mother of the bride selected a lavender dress with white accessories, hat and gloves and corsage of yellow rosebuds, while the bridegroom's mother chose a blue Berners dress with matching accessories and hat. Hers was a corsage of red rosebuds.

Mr. and Mrs. Fetherman left immediately following the ceremony on a wedding trip through the New England states going as far as Maine. They will reside in their new home, Ave. F. N. Fifth St. area, on their return.

Mrs. Fetherman is employed at

Doris K. Shaner, John D. Sterns Wed At Bethlehem

Miss Doris Kathleen Shaner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shaner, of 1069 Seneca St., Bethlehem, former teacher at Stroudsburg High school, became the bride of John D. Sterns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sterns, of 845 Kieffer St., Bethlehem, Saturday morning, Aug. 11.

The ceremony was performed at Fritz Memorial Methodist church, that city, at 11 a. m. by Rev. Burns B. Brodhead, the pastor. The church decorations included white gladioli and asters. Suitable wedding music was furnished by Stanley L. Trach, church organist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace over net and satin matching that of her lace and net shoulder length veil. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of white roses with an orchid center.

Mrs. Frederick Donatelli, of 1181 Acadia St., Bethlehem, was matron-of-honor. She was attired in a ballerina length blue lace gown with matching headpiece. Hers was also an old fashioned bouquet of pink roses and blue daisies.

Frederick Donatelli, Bethlehem, acted as best man. Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Linden grille, Bethlehem. The newlyweds left later on a honeymoon tour of the New England states and Canada. On their return, they will make their home at 103 W. Broad St., Bethlehem.

The bride was graduated from the Fountain Hill High school and West Chester State Teachers College, where she received her B. S. degree. She also pursued her studies in Europe, in Paris and Exeter, England. Mrs. Sterns was employed as instructor of social science at Stroudsburg High school, her resignation having been announced at a recent meeting of the school directors.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Bethlehem High school, also attended Lehigh University. He served in the U. S. Air Force in World War II. He is presently employed as a salesman by the

Carnival At Summit Lake Camp Sunday

Martin and Ruth Simpson, director-owners of the Summit Lake Camps staged their annual Camp Carnival Sunday afternoon, August 11, the proceeds of which were dedicated to the United Jewish Appeal of Monroe County.

The carnival booths were built and manned by the campers and included a baseball dunking apparatus, target shooting with water pistols, a nail driving contest, in addition to many others.

Sunday, being a camp visiting day, the parents of the campers had an opportunity to observe their children at play for the cause of charity.

It was reported that the co-chairmen of the local 1951 UJA drive, Dr. Neil D. Josephson and Attorney Maxwell H. Cohen were present at the camp festival and

Bangor High School Class Plans Reunion

Bangor — Plans for a banquet as part of a reunion of the 1947 class of Bangor High school were discussed at a meeting of the committee at Memorial Park.

Miss Jeannie Mackintosh was appointed in charge of the program. Speakers and guests of honor were outlined. Sept. 8 was set for return of banquet funds.

The next meeting of the committee, when plans will be completed for the reunion on Sept. 15 at Ye Saylor's Inn, Saylorsburg, was set for Aug. 23 at the home of Miss Katherine Viglione, North Eighth street, chairman of the committee. Miss Marjorie May, Pen Argyl, class advisor, was present.

made arrangements to accept the proceeds of the activity at a future date.

Route 290 Job To Be Finished By Labor Day

Canadensis — Reconstruction of Route 290 for a distance of about five miles from this community southward along Brodheads Creek will be completed in time for free flow of traffic before Labor Day. Cost of the project is estimated at about $400,000.

The contractor, Livengood, Inc., Walnutport, Pa., has about twelve and a half working days remaining on his schedule which has been broken up considerably by rain.

However, all of the actual road surfacing and reconstruction is complete. There remains the task of building solid shoulders and head-walls over drainage pipes.

Three bridges and a box culvert, plus numerous approaches for side roads have been completed. The five-mile section reconstructed as an eight-inch slag base, applied in two courses of four inches each. Travel surface is two inches of bituminous penetration material.

All curves are elevated and where super or full elevation has been used the road is widened two feet on the low side of the curve as a safety measure.

Existing project is the final portion of Route 290 between here and Stites' bridge, above Anasimink, to be reconstructed. The highway runs through exceptionally scenic territory and is a definite by-pass short-cut between the Stroudsburg and this community.

Duff Urges Big U.S. Air Force

Bradford, Pa. — "We have a shoeing Air Force compared to Russia," Senator Duff (R-Pa.) said Saturday night in a speech at the formal dedication of the Bradford-McKean airport at nearby Mount Alto.

Speaking to more than 400 at a dinner in one of the airport's hangars, Pennsylvania's ex-governor and junior senator urged the United States to build up—and quickly—the biggest Air Force in the world, he declared.

"What better than a tremendous Air force, so overpowering that Russia will not attack, solely for the reason that she could not run the risk of retaliation that this country could mete out!"

New Style Garage Proves Popular

Minneapolis, Pa. — You "fix it yourself" at a new self-service garage in Minneapolis.

The idea of letting a car owner repair his own auto is paying off for Jerry Halvorson, 37, and Jack Morgan, 33. They started their enterprise July 2.

For 75 cents an hour, amateur mechanics are permitted to use the garage's tools. If they get stuck, they can call on Halvorson and Morgan for advice.

Pretzels started in Rome when they were given to children for saying their prayers properly, says the National Geographic Society. The shape of the pretzel is said to represent little arms folded.

The USSR is an extensive fur producer and its rivers and seas are abundantly stocked with all types of fish.

John Staley Hurt As Car Strikes Tree

Mount Pocono — John Staley, Pocono Playhouse box office treasurer, was injured early yesterday when his car went out of control on Route 99 at Maple Lawn.

Staley, whose home is at New Haven, Conn., was returning after visiting relatives in Port Jervis. He told playhouse employees that he got a curve in the highway.

His car went off the road and struck a tree about 4:45 a. m. Staley, a Yale University graduate, in his early twenties, was later taken to Monroe County General hospital for treatment.

Playhouse employees said his injuries were not serious, and they expected him back on the job promptly.

Draft Boards To Call Men Over 21 Years

Harrisburg, Pa. — The State Selective Service yesterday ordered local draft boards to call their August quotas with men over 21 years of age.

Maj. Frank J. Graf, Assistant State director of Selective Service, said the instructions were sent out as "an aid to leveling out the process so that we can clear up those over 21 who still need to be inducted."

Graf said the move was prompted by recently passed Federal laws which decree that no youth under 19 can be inducted until all those 90 days past the age of 19 and over have been inducted.

"What we are doing here is taking a step in the direction of clearing up all those men ahead of the 19-year-olds and under," Graf said, by getting the men over 21 into the Army now we can move ahead to the point of getting the 20-year-olds in and so on down the line."

House Receives Bill Authorizing State Lotteries

Harrisburg, Pa. — A bill authorizing State lotteries in Pennsylvania was introduced in the House last night.

The measure, submitted by Rep. Edward Dunn (R-Northumberland), would create a State lottery commission to operate the lotteries.

The commission board would consist of the secretary of the revenue as chairman and three members named by the Governor with approval of the senate.

The commission would hold four lotteries each year, selling tickets at $1 each through State liquor stores. Twenty-five per cent of the revenues would be earmarked for lottery prizes with the remainder going into the State Treasury.

Old thrills...new money

If you've taken the family to an amusement park recently, you've had reason enough to recall "the good old days," and to remember how much more a dollar would buy then than now.
But don't blame those who run the park, the roller-coaster, or the merry-go-round. Blame the dollar! It buys less today than ever before.
Needless to say, it buys less for us, too.

The cost of supplies and equipment used in the telephone business is going up and up, just like the cost of supplies and equipment for other businesses...and just like the cost of food, clothing and amusement for you.
Take copper wire for example. Ten years ago, it cost us about $16 per hundredweight. Today, it costs $31.50—nearly twice as much.

In spite of all this, we have been able to provide good, low-cost telephone service that continues to grow in value.

Even if it should cost more, your telephone service, in comparison with other things, would still be a big, big bargain.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

It certainly is refreshing to know that baseball, contrary to some twisted imaginations, is still the cleanest game in the world where the last place club offers to the occasion late in the season and upsets the pennant contender, or at least gives the top boys a run for their precious coin. Occurrences of this type usually are found in the newspapers or fiction books, but on Sunday the season was driven home locally with a solid punch, as East Bangor clinched the Blue Mountain league pennant.

To this writer the Blue Mountain circuit seemed more than slightly shaky on several occasions this season, but the occurrence on Sunday virtually guaranteed that the circuit will operate next year and certainly should be able to venture upon a new season with head high. Johnsonville, the team that had won only one of 27 games all season came up with a stunning 1-0 victory over Pocono A. C. and definitely eliminated Manager John Schoonover's club from the pennant race, even before it was learned that East Bangor had clinched matters in its own right by taking the measure of Roseto, 2-1.

Every person who has followed the Blue Mountain league realized that Roseto had a good chance of beating East Bangor, but even the most optimistic soul didn't dare dream that Johnsonville would upset Pocono A. C.—it just couldn't happen. Hadn't the club lost 26 of its first 27 games and hadn't most of them been with terrific one-sided margins. An example of the supposed superiority of the Pocono A. C. club was found in the fact that the Schoonovermen had taken the measure of Johnsonville, 16-0, on the same Portland field slightly more than a week previous.

The Pocono A. C. Johnsonville game just wasn't supposed to be a contest, as all the interest in the circuit centered on East Bangor, where the number one and three clubs were scheduled to take part in one of those dog-eat-dog affairs. Well, as every follower of the Blue Mountain league realized by this time, pre-game dope went out the window faster than a dollar bill on a windy day, as form meant nothing to those four clubs involved in the crucial games. It was rather a case of all four being hungry for victory and going to all ends to bring home the bacon.

True, Johnsonville wasn't supposed to have a chance against the strong Pocono A. C. contingent, and this writer must confess that he too, was one that harbored such thoughts. However, even before the game got under way on the Portland field, it was obvious that this Johnsonville club wasn't fooling and although it was mired down in last place, it was out to score the upset of the season.

It has been on rare occasions that Johnsonville has been capable of fielding a complete team this season, there seemingly was always one or two key players missing when the club went into battle. However, a quick look at the Johnsonville lineup on Sunday revealed that the squad was intact and ready to go. Pocono A. C. was also at full strength, but the determination of the Johnsonville contingent was just too much of an obstacle for the Monroe county club to overcome and the visiting aggregation never presented a serious threat.

Seeing the material going into the Johnsonville team and seeing it perform was two different things entirely. Pete Kulisky ran halfway up the bank in right field to snag Dewey Martling's drive in the first frame, while John Weldick made at least two spectacular catches in left field, one while sliding along on his knees. Bill Onjack also caught a couple of baseballs labeled hits in center, while the Johnsonville infield came up with one hard hit ball after another. While his supporting cast wasn't turning back Pocono A. C., John Polisky, a graduate of East Stroudsburg High school, was, despite constant pain from an ailing back.

Roseto, on the other hand, was giving all in its power to upset the pennant bound East Bangor club. A home run by Duane "Chips" Parsons had given East Bangor a 2-1 edge after seven and one-half innings, when the field was despite the fact that Roseto was cleared too wet on which to play, after a short rain. De-destined to finish in third place, the club was insisting on playing the remainder of the game—this is if Johnsonville's players hadn't arrived on the scene at that time to inform one and all that the pennant fight was over.

However, the race is history now and this column offers East Bangor a hearty bit of congratulations for a job well done. Johnsonville also deserves a pat on the back for never once losing faith this season, even though the road was mighty rough at times this season. Both enjoyed the victory feast at East Bangor on Sunday, and nothing could have been more fitting.

Feller Wins Nineteenth As Indians Decision Tigers, 2-1

Cleveland, (AP)—Bob Feller celebrated his night at Cleveland Stadium last night as he pitched the Indians to a 2-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers and a two-and-one-half game lead in the American league. His seven-hit triumph, coming shortly before the runnerup New York Yankees lost to the Athletics, was Feller's nineteenth and ran the Tribe's winning string to 11 straight.

Feller did not have much of a hitting attack behind him. But one of the Tribe's seven hits was Al Rosen's fourth-inning homer, a 380-foot drive that cleared the left center field wall while "Hot" Evers was climbing the barrier to make a stab at it. The homer was Rosen's twentieth, high among Cleveland sluggers.

The Indians' other run was unearned.

Dale Mitchell ran his string of consecutive games in which he has hit safely to 21, by speeding down to first just ahead of the throw on a slow roller along the third base line, in the third inning. Mitchell needs to hit safely in his next six games to match the mark made by Dom DiMaggio's batting earlier this season.

Ironically, Feller who won fame as a strikeout king, did not fan a single batter last night.

However, "Rapid Robert" looked like a fielding star as he handled two throws from Luke Easter at first for putouts, and had four assists, including one that started a fast, game-ending double play.

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday optioned infielder Monty Bassall to Indianapolis of the American Association on a 24-hour recall.

It marks the second time this year that the 28-year-old second baseman has been returned to Indianapolis. He was optioned the first time on May 16 and recalled June 29.

Stroudsburg Rolls Over Cherry Valley

Stroudsburg's Inter-Borough League all-stars rode to a 17-4 victory over Cherry Valley in a two-light contest played at Gordon Gliffs field last night. The home team scored all its runs in four innings.

The Inter-Borough contingent broke a scoreless deadlock with four markers in the second and the same number in the third. The home club made certain of victory with two counters in the fourth and seven in the fifth.

Four Tallies

Cherry Valley escaped a shutout in the sixth and final inning when the visiting contingent took advantage of a brief period of wildness by Francis Ciofalo, to score four times.

Northampton — Northampton Country Club scored a 17½ to 12½ golf victory over Pocono Manor on the winning team's home course last Saturday.

Giants Triumph Over Phils

New York, (AP)—"Whitey" Lockman poked a three-run homer and Larry Jansen launched two other rallies with singles last night to lead the New York Giants to a 5-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. The victory enabled the runnerup Giants to pull four and one-half games ahead of the Phils.

Jansen was forced to quit the game in the eighth inning after pitching to one batter because of a bad back. Dave Koslo took over and preserved Jansen's fifteenth victory.

Certain

The Giants salted the game away before the 8,182 fans were settled in their seats. Lockman socked his eighth homer of the season with two on and two out in the first inning off Bubba Church. The drive soared into the upper stands in deep right field.

Jansen singled in the fifth to start another rally. Ed Stanky forced the pitcher at second and scored on a single by Don Mueller.

A's Sweep Third Straight From Yankees

By Lee Linder

Philadelphia (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics, in the most violent hitting attack New York has faced this season, defeated the Yankees 16-8 last night for their third straight victory over the world's champions. The loss dropped the Yanks two and one-half games behind the league leading Cleveland Indians who beat Detroit, 2-1.

Led by Pete Suder, Joe Tipton and Lou Limer, each of whom drove in three runs, the A's clubbed four New York pitchers for 18 hits—the most collected by any team in a nine-inning game this year. Boston had 18 against the Yanks last May 30 but needed 15 innings to get them.

Most Runs

Besides the hit barrage, including three doubles and two triples, it was also the most runs scored against New York in 1951.

The A's drove Vic Raschi, New York's ace right hander and generally a Philadelphia jinx, to the showers in the second. But it was Joe Ostrowski, the first of three relievers, who was charged with the defeat, his third against four wins.

Morris Martin, the A's starter and the winner, was shaky throughout, finally leaving for a pinch hitter in the seventh. Carl Scheib handcuffed the Yanks in the final two frames.

Dodgers Take Measure Of Braves

Brooklyn, (AP)—Gil Hodges featured "Music Deception Night" at Ebbets Field last night, belting a three-run homer in the eighth inning to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 7-6 victory over the Boston Braves. The homer was Hodges' twenty-third of the season the one hundredth of his big league career.

Hodges came to the plate after Pitcher Jim Wilson had intentionally walked Roy Campanella, who hit his 25th homer earlier in the game. Hodges drove the ball into the left field stands to break a 4-4 tie.

Breaks Mark

It was his thirty-third homer, which broke his own record for a right handed Brooklyn batter, and put him within two of Babe Herman's all-time Dodger mark of 35, which was established in 1930.

Carl Erskine, who was credited with his 13th win against eight defeats, failed to get anybody out in the ninth after Hodges' blast gave him a three-run lead. Ebbets St. Claire tripled and Pinch Hitters Jim Addis and Tommy Holmes singled to bring in one run before a hurry call was made for Clyde King.

Paul Fournier, who was charged with the loss.

Tonight's schedule calls for Line Material and Patterson-Kelley to meet on the East Stroudsburg Junior High school field, while Tucker's Chevrolet and Worthington Mower clash at the East Stroudsburg Playground. Both games are listed for 6:15 p. m.

Little League Action

Security Trust and Penn-Stroud Hotel are scheduled for action in the Stroudsburg Little League tonight, at Stroudsburg Playground. A new starting time of 6 p. m. is in order beginning tonight, due to darkness falling earlier.

Northampton Triumphs

Northampton — Northampton Country Club scored a 17½ to 12½ golf victory over Pocono Manor on the winning team's home course last Saturday.

East Bangor Tangles With Philadelphia Stars Tonight

Bangor—East Bangor, 1951 pennant winner in the Blue Mountain league, will oppose the highly regarded Philadelphia Stars here at Memorial Park tonight, under the lights, at 8:15. All proceeds from the game will go to the Bangor Park Lighting committee and the East Bangor team.

Reds Capture Doubleheader From Pirates

Cincinnati (AP) — Cincinnati's long, lean and lanky Ewell Blackwell and righthander Howie Fox teamed in a two-night doubleheader last night for a double kayo of the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-0, 7-1.

Fox blanked the Bucs on five hits in the opener and hit a homer along with Ted Kluszewski for the two Redleg runs. Blackie had a one-run one-hitter going until he surrendered three singles in the ninth of the nightcap.

Both games were Cincinnati pitching masterpieces.

The Reds scored first in the final's opening round on a walk, a throwing error by Clyde McCullough and a single.

Homer

Tom Saffell, Bucco outfielder, rocketed a drive over the right centerfield fence in the fourth with none on, and that proved to be the only Pirate hit until the ninth. It also broke a string of 25 and two thirds scoreless innings by the Pirates.

The Reds poured on the coals meanwhile. They had a four-run spurge in the fourth inning on three singles, a two-bagger and three bases on balls. They added their final two tallies in the fifth on three hits.

Freshmen Asked To Attend Meeting

Jack Kist, head football coach at East Stroudsburg High School, issued a reminder last night that all candidates are to attend a pre-season meeting at the East Stroudsburg High school auditorium at 7:30.

Invitation

Freshmen interested in playing football are also asked to attend the meeting.

Kist also wants each player to bring at least one and preferably both parents to the gathering.

Kul's Club, Eagles Triumph

Kul's Foundry and the Eagles scored victories in the Monroe County Softball league last night, the former edging Union Printers, 12-11, at the East Stroudsburg Junior High school field, while the Eagles took the measure of IAM, 6-5, at the East Stroudsburg Playground.

The Eagles led a 6-0 lead over IAM at one time, before the trailing club picked up two runs in the middle innings then pushed three tallies across the plate in the seventh and final stanza, before Gail "Doc" Fegley, who pitched the distance, closed the scoring door. Tony Gallagher homered with one mate aboard in the seventh for the losing club.

Loser

Dick Smoke was the losing pitcher.

Kul's club loaded the bases in the seventh and pushed one run across the plate to win the contest over Union Printers. Bob Hyde, who homered, was the winning hurler, while Bill Weber was charged with the loss.

Tonight's schedule calls for Line Material and Patterson-Kelley to meet on the East Stroudsburg Junior High school field, while Tucker's Chevrolet and Worthington Mower clash at the East Stroudsburg Playground. Both games are listed for 6:15 p. m.

Little League Action

Security Trust and Penn-Stroud Hotel are scheduled for action in the Stroudsburg Little League tonight, at Stroudsburg Playground. A new starting time of 6 p. m. is in order beginning tonight, due to darkness falling earlier.

One Regular Game Listed Tomorrow

East Bangor — All regularly scheduled Blue Mountain league games not played up to and including last Sunday were erased from the books last night at a special meeting of the league here at the fire house. Woodrow "Woody" Jones, president of the circuit, was in charge of the meeting.

There was one exception in the wholesale cancellation of games, as Roseto A. A. and Pocono A. C. agreed to play on Wednesday night, in a continuance of their feud which began this season upon the latter's entrance into the league. Roseto had won two of the three meetings between the two clubs, but Pocono A. C. was leading in the fourth struggle when it was washed off the books by rain.

Wednesday's game will be played at Roseto, beginning at 6 p. m.

Semi-Final

The semi-final round playoff schedule was arranged and Arnon Williams, secretary of the league, announced that West Bangor would play at Stroudsburg and Roseto at East Bangor on Sunday, in the first game of the best two-out-of-three game series. East Sunday contest is slated to begin at 2 p. m.

Stroudsburg and West Bangor tangle again on Tuesday, at Bangor's Memorial park, at 6 p. m., 11 minutes earlier than in the past. On Thursday East Bangor and Roseto will clash at Roseto park, at 6 p. m.

Williams also announced that 60 cents admission will be charged for adults during the playoffs and that two umpires would work the semi-final series and three men-in-blue will patrol the championship playoff.

John Schoonover and John Drew represented Pocono A. C. at last night's meeting, while East Bangor was represented by Gilbert Ackerman and Roseto by Dr. Nicholas Caserio. Nick Dallesandro and Vito Curcio represented West Bangor.

Musial Increases Batting Lead In National

New York (AP)—With seven weeks to go, St. Louis' Stan Musial has opened a 19-point lead on the Phils' Richie Ashburn in the National league batting race. Musial's average through Sunday was .368. Ashburn tumbled eight points during the week to .349, only five points ahead of Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson at .344.

The big man of the week was Roy Campanella, Brooklyn catcher, who moved up six points to .334 for the only gain among the top ten. Campanella had nine hits, including four homers, at Ebbets field.

Fellers

Johnny Woychik of Cincinnati, tied with Campanella last week, dropped to .321. Then came Al Dark, of New York, .319 and Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh, .316. Carl Furillo and "Doc" Wooten of Brooklyn tied for eighth at .315 and Harry Lowrey of St. Louis had .310.

Gil Hodges of Brooklyn regained the home run lead with his thirty second off New York's Jim Hearn. Kiner did not add to last week's total of 31 homers. Monte Irvin of New York remained first with 86 runs batted in, while Kiner led with 93 runs scored. Ashburn with 162 hits and Sam Jethroe of Boston with 25 stolen bases.

Gus Bell of Pittsburgh and Ted Kluszewski, also of Cincinnati, in a tie for most doubles, 26. Bell also tied Musial for most triples, nine.

Minoso Continues To Pace American Hitters

Chicago (AP)—Orestes Minoso of Chicago continued to lead American league hitters last week.

The White Sox outfielder batted at a .342 clip through games of Sunday to lead Ferris Fain of Philadelphia by eight points.

There were two changes among the top ten during the week. Gil McDougald of New York took over seventh place with a .310 average and Johnny Pesky of Boston moved into tenth with .302. They replaced "Hank" Majeski of Philadelphia and Bill Goodman of Boston.

Mound Leader

Cleveland's Bob Feller took over the leadership in the pitching division from Tom Morgan of New York. Feller added a victory to make his string 13 against four defeats for an .818 average. Morgan won one and lost one during the week.

Other hitting leaders were George Kell, Detroit, third, .331; Bob Avila, Cleveland, fourth, .327;

Ted Williams, Boston, fifth, .326; Gil Coan, Washington, sixth, .322; Nelson Fox, Chicago, eighth, .309; Dom DiMaggio, Boston, ninth, .304.

Minoso has the most runs and triples, 90 and 13 respectively. Dom DiMaggio has the most hits, 141. Irving Noren of Washington has the most doubles, 31, and Gus Zernial of Philadelphia the most home runs, 24. Williams' 97 was tops in runs batted in and Jim Busby of Chicago led in stolen bases, 20.

Pennant Fever Hits Cleveland

Cleveland (AP)—Clevelanders by the hundreds of thousands were enjoying the most serious case of pennant-itis yesterday since the Indians grabbed the flag in 1948.

With the first place Tribe riding a ten-game winning streak—longest in ten years—it was hard to get into an extended conversation on any subject but baseball in restaurants, bars, and barbershops.

Radio station WERE had a hoop-rating which showed that by the end of July, 70 per cent of the radios in this area were turned to its game broadcasts. Television station WXLB said its sampling showed that 54.2 per cent of the video screens in the area were tuned to its casts of the games.

Big Crowds

Only last weekend a total 119,147 went through the turnstiles at the stadium.

The Indians' ticket office is so swamped with advance orders that a fifth telephone operator was hired.

Waldek To Wrestle At Giffels Field

Ella Waldek, regarded by many as a dangerous threat to the women's wrestling crown currently worn by Mildred Burke, will be one of the two women wrestlers to feature the outdoor mat program being sponsored by the Lions club of the Stroudsburgs at Gordon Giffels field on Wednesday, August 22.

Civil Service

Waldek, who is 26 years of age, was born in Custer, Washington, of German parentage and speaks German fluently. One of the prides of the German people is strong, athletic bodies and according to reports no girl can boast of a more beautiful athletic body than Ella. The Washington native is five feet, five inches tall, weighs 148 pounds, is fair complexioned, has blue eyes and natural blond hair.

After completing her second year of high school Ella served her country in time of war as a government civil service airplane checker.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Tuesday, August 14, 1951

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—If you hold temper and a desire to rush things, and if you keep up courage you can surmount obstacles quickly today. Hate everything but what is in world, don't underestimate opponents.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—It may be that little extra effort which holds the balance for success. Study the inner workings of things, those opposing your ideas. Know what you are about, then proceed.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Aspirations steady effort. Of course you will have to do your share, and that will put you in touch quicker with success. How ahead and intelligently you proceed will tell.

June 22 to July 21 (Cancer)—Most matters now will require more forethought. Full application of your best talents. Take more care in matters that affect health, life, property, to security.

July 22 to August 21 (Leo)—Smart, calm reflection, and judgment essential. If you would keep your state clean and prosperous. Extra efforts may be required for action matters close to family, give them their due.

August 22 to September 21 (Virgo)—Industrial and commercial affairs especially have good light now. Always build for that surplus for rainy days. Do not indulge needless worry, neither anticipate a slump, be happy within.

September 22 to October 21 (Libra)—They may seem neither here nor there. Means you will have to get out and push, mostly on your own. Work and smile. Watch for new, unexpected changes, carry out this evening.

October 22 to November 21 (Scorpio)—A hard, methodical, favorable to

$1,323 Paid In Bounties To Countians

Monroe county was one of 16 out of Pennsylvania's 67 counties which received bounty payments from the Game commission for all types of compensable predators ranging from great horned owls to weasels.

It was in the gos-hawk classification that all but 16 counties fell down on predator bounty payments.

Bounty payments reported covered the fiscal period from June 1, 1950 to May 31, 1951. They amounted to $1,323.50.

These payments were made for 52 weasels, 291 grey foxes, three gos-hawks, 18 great horned owls and three of their fledglings.

Pike, another county which filled every category listed, received payments totaling $956 for nine weasels, 228 gos-hawks, five great horned owls.

Wayne county received $1,515.50 for 65 weasels, 332 grey foxes, a gos-hawk, 25 great horned owls and three fledglings.
